

Humber FSE 2025 Continuing Education Offerings

This year, we're doing things a little differently. Humber's Funeral Service Education team is offering four Continuing Education sessions, each worth 1.5 CE credits.

We hosted one live session in May 2025, which has been recorded and is now available to view. The remaining three sessions are being offered in varied online formats that you can complete at a time that works best for you. We hope you enjoy this year's flexible and engaging CE learning opportunities.

The Impact of Victim Services Toronto (Recorded Session):

Event Description— This is a recording of a live session from May, 26, 2025. It offers a glimpse into the vital work of Victim Services Toronto, an organization dedicated to supporting individuals and families in the aftermath of crime or sudden tragedy. While as funeral directors we often only experience and know about a small part of the many responsibilities that make up their work, the session provides meaningful insight into the resources, crisis response, and compassionate support they deliver every day. By sharing their knowledge and experiences, Victim Services Toronto helps us better understand the complexity of their role and the important impact they have within the community.

This session is approved for 1.5 Continuing Education Hours, Category A.

Cost: $20

Registration Link: The Impact of Victim Services Toronto \(Recorded Session\)

Floral Arrangements Video & Challenge:

Event Description— In this pre-recorded session, a florist shares tips and techniques for creating beautiful floral arrangements suited to a wide range of purposes; from everyday enjoyment to special ceremonies and memorials. Viewers will gain insight into design principles, flower selection, and creative styling, while also learning practical skills to make arrangements that are both meaningful and visually stunning. Whether you're looking to elevate your personal floral skills or simply appreciate the artistry behind floral design, this video offers inspiration and guidance straight from an experienced florist.

As part of this session, viewers are invited to put their skills into practice by creating their own floral arrangement and posting a photo onto a Padlet. The winning "florist" will receive free continuing education through Humber in 2026.

This session is approved for 1.5 Continuing Education Hours, Category B.

Cost: $20

Registration Link: Floral Arrangements Video & Challenge

Embalming Chemicals Podcast:

Event Description— This series of podcasts brings together four leading embalming chemical companies for open conversations about the science, art, and practice of modern embalming. Each episode explores the latest products, techniques, and safety considerations shaping preparation rooms today. Listeners will hear directly from experts representing four manufacturers as they share insights on formulation, practical application, best practices, and innovations that support both professionals and the families they serve. Whether you're a student, a practicing funeral director, or simply curious about the science behind embalming, this series offers a unique look into the chemicals that make a lasting difference in funeral care.

This session is approved for 1.5 Continuing Education Hours, Category A.

Cost: $20

Registration Link: Embalming Chemicals Podcast

Natural Burial Panel Discussion & Podcast:

Event Description— This pre-recorded panel discussion (originally developed for funeral director students) explores what natural burial is, why more families are choosing it, and how funeral directors can best support those making this choice. While designed as an educational resource, it is equally relevant to licensed professionals in the field, offering practical insights into environmental considerations, family expectations, and the evolving role of funeral directors in this area.

Building on the discussion, a follow-up podcast addresses the deeper questions seasoned professionals may have — from regulatory challenges to practical applications. Together, the panel and podcast provide both a strong foundation and an opportunity to critically engage with this expanding area of practice.

This session is approved for 1.5 Continuing Education Hours, Category A.

Cost: $20

Registration Link: Natural Burial Panel Discussion & Podcast